Tuesday’s: Wolverine Heights at 8:15am

CONFESSION:
Half Hour before Mass

First Reading (Isaiah 25:6-10a): The Lord will provide richly for his people.
Responsorial Psalm (Psalm 23:1-6): The Lord is our shepherd.
Second Reading (Philippians 4:12-14,19-20): Paul tells the Philippians that God provides whatever he needs.
Gospel Reading (Matthew 22:1-14): Jesus compares the kingdom of heaven to a wedding feast. With the invited guests now deemed unworthy to attend the king’s wedding feast, the servants are sent to invite whomever they can find. The guests arrive, but it appears that accepting the king’s invitation brings certain obligations. The guest who failed to dress in the appropriate wedding attire is cast out of the feast. We are reminded that while many are invited to the kingdom of heaven, not all are able to meet its requirements. God invites us to his feast, giving us his salvation. Yet he asks us to repent for our sins. To accept the invitation is also to accept its obligations. God wants our full conversion in complete acceptance of his mercy.

“For many are called, but few are chosen”

Pastor's Message

Didn’t he know? This is the question. Didn’t the man know that he had no business taking part in the wedding banquet, without attending to the most basic requirements, namely wearing a wedding robe? We have to judge that he did know —that he wasn’t ignorant to the fact, given that he made absolutely no protest when he was confronted. There was nothing for him to say because he knew that he had no defence. Interestingly, the Greek word used for wedding robe, enduma, has an interesting connotation that stands out in the various uses of this word; it takes on the symbolic value of repentance. In the Old Testament, it is used to describe the clothing “of ancient prophets, in token of their contempt of earthly splendour.” In the New Testament, it is used to describe St. John the Baptist’s attire. We know that St. John the Baptist wore a sheep skin and a leather belt and was a visible sign of contempt for the world. In fact, our Lord said to his disciples in reference to St. John the Baptist. “What did you go out to the wilderness to see? Someone dressed in soft robes? Look, those who wear soft robes are in royal palaces” (Matt 11:7-8). St. John the Baptist was the very sign of what he was proclaiming in his vocation to be the voice preparing the way of the Lord. He was preaching the necessity of conversion, of repentance. For us who have been clothed with Christ in the Sacrament of Baptism, the wedding robe signifies sanctifying grace, a grace that we are to cooperate with and walk in. It cannot happen without repentance and the very deliberate turning away from sin. The man in the parable received the invitation to the banquet but he did so on his own terms. He was unwilling to change. He did not accept the requirement of repentance and conversion, and he knew it. He was speechless because there was nothing for him to say. As we gather to give thanks this weekend with our loved ones and families, first among everything that we are thankful for, is the grace of God that we have received and continue to strive to walk in day by day. How amazing that our God desires to share His very life with us, His creatures. We have a hard time comprehending it, but the more it dawns on us the more we are able to appreciate everything else that he gives us and see these things in their proper light. Have a Happy Thanksgiving! May we continue to strive and walk the path of ongoing conversion so that we will one day enjoy the Eternal Wedding Feast of the Lamb.

Fr. Colin

*Heavenly Father,
We thank You for Your abundant goodness and mercy in our lives. Your faithfulness never fails, and Your love endures forever. Help us to live each day with grateful hearts and to recognize Your blessings in every moment.
“Give thanks to the Lord, for He is good; His love endures forever.” (Psalm 136:1)
Amen.*
